Presently, Arthur's practice focuses in the areas of zoning and land use law, administrative law, municipal and government relations, general civil litigation, contracts and real estate law. His experience is an asset to all of his clients.

Over the past 40 years, Arthur has maintained a broad and diverse practice having tried civil cases of almost every description in state and federal courts throughout East and Middle Tennessee and before the Tennessee Court of Appeals and Tennessee Supreme Court. For many years he has been listed in the Best Lawyers as well as Super Lawyers. He was recognized by the Tennessee Business Magazine as one of the 150 best lawyers in the State of Tennessee. Arthur is a member of the Tennessee and Knoxville Bar Associations, the International Association of Defense Council, the National Association of Railroad Trial Council and is a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers.

Arthur is a life-long native of Knoxville. He graduated from the University of the South in 1966, and returned to the University of Tennessee where he received his J.D. in 1969. After serving two years in the U.S. Army, he began his practice with Frantz, McConnell & Seymour, LLP. Over the years, he has served as president, board member, and attorney for The East Tennessee Historical Society, as well as a board member of the Knoxville Symphony Orchestra, the Metropolitan Airport Authority, the Episcopal School of Knoxville, and many other organizations.

Arthur takes a practical approach to finding the best legal solutions for his clients. He is passionate about the law, and a true advocate for anyone he represents.
